

Girls Always Win

The first woman tried to get her man to take a bite of an apple she found
He was tempted, never stood a chance even with no other girls around
She said, hey baby take a bite
Let me show ya how wrong feels right
Girls always win, since the whole world started to spin

Romeo said to Juliet, hey, your daddy don't like me much
We're still talkin' 'bout the mess he made even though he didn't make the cut
Same story, new song
A guy dealin' with love gone wrong
Girls always win, since the whole world started to spin

(chorus)
Nothin's ever gonna change it
It's always been the same you know
Every lady drove us crazy
Since a million years ago

Mona Lisa couldn't fake a smile, even for ol' Leo's brush
She played it cool, took him for a fool, for four long years he rushed
She never faded over time
She's still got guys standin' in line
Girls always win, since the whole world started to spin

(repeat chorus)

Four boys down in Liverpool had the scene at their command
A girl came and rocked their world, went ahead and changed all their plans
It was a revolution, he held her hand
Ono, she broke up the band
Girls always win, since the whole world started to spin
Since the world started to spin
Since the whole world started to spin

*Written by Frankie Moreno / Tony Moreno
©2018 Luccivanni Publishing – BMI / Featherpen Publishing - BMI
Completed in Las Vegas, NV*