

Your Heart Will Lead You Home

Time is a changing thing
Life keeps you wondering
I may not know what tomorrow brings
But I know what I need today

Though we may lose our way
Lost like a castaway
Hoping that someone will come and save
Save us from being alone

Love is an ocean
And who knows where you'll roam
But I hope someday your heart will lead you home

All of the tears we've cried
Will flow out with the tide
We'll start a new day side by side
I'll hold you close again

Don't let your sails come in
I'll be your guiding wind
You won't have to tell me 'bout where you've been Just tell me that you'll never go

Love is an ocean
And who knows where you'll roam
Though I don't know why you have gone
But I hope someday your heart will lead you home
