

A Ship

I've sailed through rough waters
For most of my life
Tryin' to find the reason to keep holdin' on
I've seen a lot of storm clouds
I've done more wrongs than right
But nothin's more frightening
Than you bein' gone
Maybe I'm a fool
Maybe you're an angel
But what would I do
If you went away

(chorus)
When you call my name
You know I'll come runnin'
Nothin' else matters when I'm holdin' your hand
And when you smile and say
You'll never leave me
You fill my sails and I'm the luckiest man
Without you baby I'm just a ship
Trying to sail the desert sand

From the moment I saw you
I knew you were the one
Every other face just washed away with the tide
I'm down on my knees tryin' to tell you that I love you
I just want to hold you right here by my side
Maybe I'm wrong
To think I deserve you
But I'd cross the ocean
To give you what you want

(repeat chorus)

*Written by Frankie Moreno
©2019 Luccivanni Publishing – BMI
Completed in Las Vegas, Nevada*