

Can't Go Back

I've seen a million faces and I've shook a million hands
I've walked a thousand miles now tryin' to find out who I am
And I'm still walking, I'm still walking

I've kissed the salty ocean and I've felt the desert wind
I've run around in circles next to strangers I've called friends
And I'm still runnin', I'm still runnin'
I talk to the angels every night
And I've danced with the devil once or twice

I've prayed to God for miracles that never did come true
And asked him to forgive the things I wish I didn't do
And I'm still asking, I'm still asking

I've locked myself inside a world no one can understand
Sang words from my soul to those who don't know who I am
And I'm still singing, I'm always singing
I've filled my world with pride and confidence
But somewhere inside I lost my innocence

(chorus)

As I stare into the mirror at the person that I've worked so hard to be
I wonder what I'd be like if I'd done some things a little differently
But that song is sung, I've got to run
To make it to the next stop on my track
I've come so far down this road
I can't go back

I've flashed a million smiles and I've dripped a million tears
I've tried to heal the wounds that's followed me throughout the years
And I'm still trying, I'm still trying

I own a million memories of when I was a kid
And the music that I made was not a job just what I did
But I keep singin', whoa, I keep on singin'
Some days I wish I could turn back time
And rearrange this crazy life of mine

(repeat chorus)

Written by Frankie Moreno
©2008 Luccivanni Publishing – BMI
Completed in Las Vegas, Nevada