

I'm Goin' Places

You smile, and ask
Where've I been all your life
I sing, you dance
Oh, the future looks so bright
The future looks so bright

You stare, and ask
Why don't the whole world know my name
I don't mean to sound crass
But I've always wondered the same thing
I've always wondered the same thing

(chorus)
Now I'm not sure where I'm headed
'Cause I'm not sure where I've been Used to live my life searchin' for the light
But I have shed that skin
Now I'm seein' things so clearly
While I'm stuck behind closed doors
I've played the game of wearin' many faces
Standing still I know for sure
I'm goin' places

You smile and wave
You'll be seein' less of me
Let's try to be brave
As they take down the marquee
They take down the marquee

(repeat chorus)

You smile, and ask
Where've I been all your life
I sing, you dance
Oh, the future looks so bright
The future looks so bright

*Written by Frankie Moreno
©2020 Luccivanni Publishing – BMI
Completed in Las Vegas, NV*