

Mixed Emotions

In the valley of the rainbows
I thought I saw your face
But your true colors
Were clearly out of place

My heart was erupting
Remembering your lips
And the times I swallowed fire
When we still knew how to kiss

(chorus)
You're letter just arrived
I'm all mixed up inside
Should I celebrate
Or should I run and hide
My preconceived notions
Were dumped into the ocean
As I welcome you back with mixed emotions

You were colder than December
On a warm day in May
Eyes full of storm clouds
Before you ran away

I guess you're comin' home now
Let's pull out the champagne
You'll be gone with the tide
As quickly as you came

(repeat chorus)

*Written by Frankie Moreno / B.T. Brunelle
©2004 Luccivanni Publishing – BMI
Completed in Las Vegas, NV*