

Some Kind Of Love

(chorus)

It was some kind of love

You can never replace

Starts in your heart

Tears at your soul and shows on your face

So you lock it inside

So nobody knows

It was some kind of love, some kind of loss, some time ago

A young beatin' heart

Is easy to steal

There's no scars

There's no fear

No wounds to heal

But it can be weakened by loves cruel disguise

Still it keeps beatin' in time you're gonna realize

(repeat chorus)

You look back and wonder

How it would be

If you handled certain things differently

But you live and you learn

Your pain will subside

Your destiny drowns all the tears your eyes have cried

Written by Frankie Moreno / Mark Gilbert

©2007 Luccivanni Publishing – BMI

Completed in Santa Cruz, CA