

Mixed Up

Lately, it's hard to know which road I should take - If any
And maybe, I'll toss a dream or two in the lake - with a penny
My head is where my heart should be
The sky's collapsed into the sea
Standin' tall with two left feet
I'm spinnin' 'round because I'm all mixed up
I'm all mixed up

Lately, I'm talkin' to the voice in my head - But it won't listen
And baby, everything I meant to have said - has gone missin'
It's sunny but I smell the rain
I'm smilin' wide but feelin' strain
The river's runnin' down the drain
Goin' in circles 'cause I'm all mixed up
I'm all mixed up

(chorus)
Oh, I draw a map
But the lines all seem to bend
Every start feels like
The beginning of the end
I light a match
But there's no way to make a flame
Been callin' out
But nobody came

Lately, I'm driftin' through a world made of glass - so fragile
And maybe, the future is a ghost from the past - in denial
My thoughts are playin' hide and seek
My highs don't last, my lows run deep
I climb but never hit the peak
Lost in the shuffle 'cause I'm all mixed up
I'm all mixed up, whoa

Can't tell the truth from what I dream
I'm stuck somewhere in between
I'm all mixed up
Yeah I'm all mixed up

*Written by Frankie Moreno / Tony Moreno
©2025 Luccivanni Publishing – BMI / Featherpen Publishing - BMI
Completed in Las Vegas, NV*